ACG Press Release 2009-12-07

ACG SECURITY GROUP CORP. BEGINS PRELIMINARY CERTIFICATION TESTING OF V-RAID[®] TECHNOLOGY

Vancouver, BC - 09-12-07: ACG Security Group Corp. has begun preliminary testing of its v-RAID[®] technology as part of the process for full US government certification. The flagship radiation detection technology of the ACG Security Group is expected to be in testing for the next 7 - 10 days with results to be released shortly thereafter. "The technology development team been preparing the prototype devices with the goal of exceeding all of the benchmark standards set for radiation detector tests " stated Paul Paulson, president of ACG Security Group Corp. "The results of these tests will give us a very good idea of what we can expect from our certification test trials that begin early next year. No one company has ever passed all of the new standards that have been introduced and are looking to be the first to do so." The company will release the test results as soon as they are available.
